YEAR 10 HOMEWORK TIMETABLE 2017-2018

HOMEWORK GUIDANCE

Homework is essential for all pupils as an important way of reinforcing work done in class. Each girl is required to spend a substantial amount of time doing her homework and this time increases as she proceeds up the School.

As her school career progresses, each pupil is expected to take more responsibility for managing the time she spends on her homework. This is an integral part of encouraging girls to become increasingly self-reliant learners.

Homework is an important aspect of school life. In Glenlola Collegiate School the purpose of homework is:

- to extend learning beyond the classroom, rather than use homework only to complete a course or practise what pupils may not have understood in class
- to offer a variety of tasks which extend knowledge and understanding, and which develop skills
- to assess, develop and test the above
- to encourage habits of lifelong inquiry and learning
- to offer opportunities to assess progress
- to diagnose the effectiveness of teaching and learning
- to prepare pupils for examinations.

USING THE HOMEWORK DIARY

Staff may use the diary to communicate with you, so please encourage your daughter to have it with them at all times. Also, if you need to communicate with staff you may find the diary a useful way to do this. Please check the homework diary regularly and sign it on a weekly basis.

STUDYING AT HOME

This is an important part of your daughter's overall education. We recommend that pupils in Year 10 spend 1-1.5 hours per night completing homework. Please use the homework timetables on the following pages to help your daughter to best plan her use of time to study at home.

Please encourage your daughter to ensure they have the right equipment with them so that they can take part in the class fully. Some find having a colour coded timetable up in the locker helps, and having their files colour coded is also a big help. This also helps to improve organisation at home.

STUDYING IN SCHOOL

If they need to, pupils can use the library at lunchtimes to catch up on any work missed because of absence, music lessons etc. The library is then available after school for 'Homework Club' for the completion of work set by teachers.

GUIDELINES FOR HELPING YOUR DAUGHTER GET THE MOST OUT OF HER STUDIES

For pupils, falling behind in their work is a stressful experience, particularly if they have been absent due to illness. It is very important that they get caught up as quickly as possible so that they do not fall even further behind.

There are many avenues of support on offer. However, we feel that it is important that you know what is available too. Please encourage your child to use the support:

Key staff and teams to help your daughter:
In the first instance you should contact:

- Subject Teacher
- Form Teacher

Other staff who are also available are:

- Head of Department
- Head of Year
- Head of Section
- Pastoral Support Team

WHAT SHOULD PUPILS DO IF THEY ARE ABSENT?

If they have been off for a short time they should be able to catch up quickly, perhaps by using the library. We also expect them to find out the homework that they have missed. If they are off for some time, then please contact their Form Teacher and they will be able to organise work. However, this usually takes a couple of days. Once they return to school they should check that all work is complete and ask for help if necessary.

HOMEWORK AND CONTINUOUS ASSESSMENT REQUIREMENTS 2017-2018

In the Northern Ireland Revised Curriculum, taught in Years 8 to 10 in School, there is a strong emphasis on pupils taking responsibility for their own learning. This independent learning should involve each pupil reinforcing what has been done in class or doing their own research to enhance understanding.

Parents should be aware that in all subjects, homeworks may on occasion be extended over several nights. Please check the homework diary regularly and sign it on a weekly basis. Additional homeworks may be set at the individual teacher's discretion.
